PULLMAN SHOPS INCREASE FORCE FOR WINTER

SMALL INCOMES NOT TO BENEFIT BY REDUCTIONS

Recommendation Included Clause
That Earned Income Reduction be Eliminated

AFFECTS EARNED SALARIES

Representative Garner Attacks
Recommendations Made By

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Democrats and insurgent Republicans in Congress today believed they had discovered a "joker" in the tax reduction program of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon which would result in the small taxpayer receiving virtually no relief from his present tax burden.

Representative Garner, Texas, ranking Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee, said he understands the Treasury is advocating reductions in the rates on small incomes, but to offset this it is proposing repeal of the "earned income" provision of the present law which allows persons having taxable earned income under $5,000 to deduct 25 per cent.

"The reductions in rates on the 'little fellow' proposed by the Treasury, as I understand them, would be offset by elimination of the 25 per cent deduction feature and through readjustment of the brackets said Gardner, adding:

Mr. Mellon made an earnest plea before the committee yesterday for relieving the rich people, but did not talk much about lightening the burden of the millions of small tax payers.

BOOTLEG RAIDS BY POLICE NET TWO SUSPECTS

Two raids conducted by Richmond police last night under the leadership of Chief Dan Cox netted one self-confessed bootlegger and another charged with possession and sale of intoxicating liquor.

Andrew G. Irving, 521 Third street, was arrested in a raid after he had made a sale. He was taken to police headquarters and Police Judge C. A. Odell called. Irving admitted that he was a bootlegger before Judge Odell and his bail was set at $500 cash or $1,000 bond.

Paul Raffanelli was arrested at his abode on East Richmond avenue, near the waterfront. He also is charged with having sold "booze."

However, he professes not to understand the English language and demanded an interpreter. Judge Odell placed his bail at an amount similar to that in the Irving case.

Several quarts of "jackass" were seized in the raid at the Irving residence while the haul made off Raffanelli consisted mostly of wine of high power.

The cases of the two men will be finally disposed of in Police court this afternoon.

Action Needed If Richmond Wants to Take In Annex

Why all the Secrecy and Procrastination about the Annexation of the Richmond Annex?

As Henry A. Johnston, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce stated in the letter accompanying the straw ballots which were sent to the voters of the Richmond Annex: "It will be of the greatest benefit to all of us and there is no sound argument against this merging and pooling of our interests."

And yet:

In spite of the fact that this vote was sent out last Friday and it is known that votes were returned as early as Saturday afternoon no report has been forthcoming on the trend of the feeling in the annex.

No effort other than the letter has been used to enlist the 206 voters of that section on the side of annexation to Richmond.

Acting Mayor George Conlon of El Cerrito has appointed a committee consisting of D. Bryde and H. B. Hollenbaugh of Richmond Annex and Mrs. George W. Adams of El Cerrito to study the feasibility of annexing that same territory to El Cerrito.

The El Cerrito committee is fighting an active campaign to annex the territory to that city.

That a meeting has been called for tonight at the home of Mrs. Adams in El Cerrito to further the plans of that city for annexation.

If the local committee is waiting until all of the 206 straw votes are returned we will be as old as Methuselah and the Richmond Annex will be in a condition to request the annexation of Richmond instead of Richmond the annex.

Many citizens of the annex have indicated their desire to become a part of the city of Richmond and now is the time to get out petitions and call that election if one is to be called.—The fellow who waits to bet on his home town team until after it has been announced the winner can't expect to place any bets.

No better reasons than those set forth in the letter mailed to the voters in the Annex by President Johnston of the Chamber can be found. The question is though. How many of those 206 voters are going to make a close study of these reasons unless some other means to make to call their attention to the advisability of joining Richmond. After a month of intensive campaign both by speakers and newspaper publicity less than one third of the qualified voters of the Richmond High School District voted on the proposed bond issue of $885,000, one of the most vital questions that has been before the people of this section for some time.

There is some opposition to the annexation of that territory to Richmond. Why not be frank and admit it? But why give that opposition actuated by purely selfish interests an opportunity to put their propaganda in the field. It requires a majority of the vote cast to carry an annexation proposal.

Now is the time to get busy.

The fire reasons quoted by President Johnston in his letter to the voters of the Annex why they should become a part of the city of Richmond are worth repetition:

1. Fire and police protection.
2. Streets, parks and playgrounds.
3. Lighting of streets.
4. Taxation. If incorporated with Richmond your people would never have to carry any of the tax burdens for the present bonded indebtedness of Richmond.

5. Community cooperation with a larger city here whose limits embraces all territory logically a part of Richmond we shall be able to proceed with general plans for community development. It is certain that if we pull together we shall all travel faster than we can, if we travel alone.

"We want you with us, to help us, in the job that is ahead of us. It will be of the greatest benefit to all of us and there is no sound argument against this merging and pooling of our interests."

"By cooperating under one municipality the west end of Contra Costa county will be able in the next quarter century to accomplish results which will make the record of the last 25 years look insignificant."

Suit was filed yesterday in the Superior Court at Martinez, to foreclose a mortgage for $30,000 on property at Eighth and Macdonald avenue, owned by the late Ben Griffiths of Berkeley. Due to some opposition to the celebration that has been met by the Legion a state-

Serious Charge Is Made Against El Cerrito Pair

Charged with embezzlement, Joseph Ramos, 24, a barber of El Cerrito, and his wife, Verdy, 30, were arrested by Oakland police. The charges were made by Orrin Sager, 69 year inmate of the Alameda county infirmary, who swore that the couple embezzled $13,600 from him during the past six years. The loss of this money, his sole means of support, had caused him to go to the county institution.

Stocks and bonds worth $12,000 and $1,600 in cash were taken and invested in schemes proposed by Ramos and his wife, Sager told police. He charges that the couple took his money and securities, promising to invest it so that he would receive a large return. The cash was taken three years ago and soon spent by Ramos and his wife, Sager charges. The couple obtained the securities and promised to keep him for the rest of his life in case the investment failed.

Sager told the police that since that time Ramos has bought two automobiles and did not work until about three months ago. Some time ago, Sager said, he went to Ramos and asked for the money and both Mr. and Mrs. Ramos insisted upon carrying out their agreement to provide for him. But this was never done, the aged man said, because he found conditions at the Ramos home such that he feared to remain there.

Ramos and his wife were questioned yesterday by Police Inspector E. A. Wellman, both insisting that they had tried to carry out their agreement with Sager and denying that they had taken his money and squandered it. They are being held in the Oakland city prison in default of $10,000 bail each and will appear for arraignment in the Oakland police court today.

Terminal Corp. Employees On City Payroll

Method Whereby City May Gain
Some Income From Wharf
Is Suggested

(INSTALLMENT 6)

"Dunnage" is the lumber that comes with cars loaded with goods when they arrive at the municipal wharf. It is taken by the Richmond Terminal corporation and laid on the floor of the warehouse, before the case goods are stacked on it.

The use of this lumber is necessary to the work of the Terminal corporation, and when it comes time for this dunnage to be cleaned away, it would seem as if it would be the work of this company, but apparently it is not the way things are handled at the municipal wharf.

When the work of stacking goods or transferring them to shipside, is completed, and the day is not completed, some of the men of the Richmond Terminal corporation are then put to work clearing away the dunnage, and the harbor master certifies bills for this work to the City of Richmond.

Part of the men at the wharf have received parts of a day pay from the Richmond Terminal corporation at the rate of 75 and 80 cents an hour, and the other part of the day's pay has been received from the City of Richmond on the basis of $5.50 for eight hours.

The City of Richmond charges 15 cents per ton for warehousing of goods if they stay there long enough, and it is understood that the Richmond Terminal corporation gets 40 cents per ton for handling the goods.

It can be readily seen, that under the present arrangement, and with the City of Richmond receiving no revenue from this end of the business, that the more wharves and docks that are constructed, the position of the City of Richmond becomes worse and worse.

A business proposition would seem to suggest that the City of Richmond handles all of the business of incoming and outgoing goods, with the exception of the stevedoring, and receives the profits that would accrue, or else make an arrangement with some stable company that would insure the City of Richmond a fixed revenue, that would at least include some of the profit that comes from the operation of wharves and docks.

Last year the Richmond Terminal corporation paid an income tax on a profit of over $16,000, and no one knows what salaries the officers of the corporation, drew. The City of Richmond did not even get on the right side of the ledger.

OFFICIALS DO NOT AGREE ON FATE OF GIRL

EUREKA, Oct. 20.—The second sensational development in the efforts of authorities to solve the mystery of Henry Sweet's murder while on a hunting trip ten days ago broke today with the reported breach between the district attorney's office of Humboldt county and the sheriff.

While Sheriff A. A. Ross was pinning his hopes on information to be obtained from Carmen Wagner's alleged companion of Monday, District Attorney A. W. Hill made the statement that he believed the girl was killed.

To prove the theory, Hill took the unusual step of organizing a posse over the head of the sheriff and announced that he would lead the posse personally into the hills of the Fort Baker district tomorrow. He intends to search the entire region, convinced that "Miss Wagner was murdered by the murderer of Sweet."

According to new information given Sheriff Ross today by Harry Selvaage, Eureka garage owner, who has known Carmen Wagner for many years, the girl had been seen in Eureka on October 12. Selvaage said that he was walking with another man when they saw Miss Wagner a few paces in advance of them and near the Eureka office stage line. She was apparently preparing to leave Eureka.

Included in the musical program were numbers by the Lion Trio, composed of Carl Richard, Ward McRacken and Dennis Shaw; vocal solos by Bert Carter, Wiley Dorman, musical director of Radio Station KFWI and by Keach Mylander; and a piano solo by Dennis Shaw, the club's musician. Dorman extended an invitation to the club to put on a half hour program at the opening of the new station KFWI at an early date. President Wilbur Pierce accepted the invitation and placed the program for that occasion in charge of the music committee.

Gaelic Dancer To Compete For World Honors

MARTINEZ, Oct. 20.—One of the greatest attractions of interest in the Shamrock Isles since the day that St. Patrick banished the serpents will take the place in the near future.

Michael Keneally, of Port Costa, undisputed champion of Gaelic dancers on the Pacific Coast, rapidly getting into the class of Alexander, while looking about for new worlds to conquer heard that there is one superior to him in Ireland.

He was in Martinez today arranging for his passport.

The Gaelic association has already made arrangements for Keneally to meet the kingpin of Gaelic dance exponents with a definite date for the match to be arranged on Keneally's arrival "Where the River Shannon flows."

There is real technique in the Gaelic dances and since it has been months since Keneally has been in competition, he has gone into training for his trans-Atlantic and international match.

For the last half dozen years Irishmen without number have attempted to lift Keneally's crown, but he easily repulsed every attack upon his championship. He has high hopes of bringing one more championship of Europe back to the Pacific Coast.

The Spotlight

YOU'VE been in a theatre when the stage was dark, and a spotlight suddenly focused upon the thing you wanted most to see. Advertisements are like spotlights. They focus attention upon the goods that interest you most.

You could wander in and out a dozen stores and, in the confusion of many objects, over-look what would please you best. Yet by reading the advertisements, without leaving your home you can tell definitely where the desired wares are, their prices, how they will serve you. You can know actual values long before you buy.

Advertisements throw light on new comforts and improvements, too, you might like to own. They let you see conveniences other folks are enjoying—bring them within easy reach.

Let these spotlights guide you to standard goods. They'll help you save. Read the advertisements regularly.

Improvements Made In Shops Of Pullman Co.

is turning out remodeled cars at the rate of 15 per week, which is practically its capacity.

The "Sunset Beach" one of the latest model cars of the Pullman Company is at present in the shop undergoing repairs. This is one of the silver plated cars of the company with all trimmings silver plated and oxidized. The car is divided into compartments and in addition to the usual conveniences of the modern sleeping car contains a ladies shower bath and ladies lounging and smoking room. This is the first time that this car has been in the repair shop since it was turned out at the Chicago construction plant of the company. Additional machinery has been installed at the plant which puts it in line with the most modern of its type in the country. Last fall a big electric hoist was installed which picks a car completely off its trucks or wheels so that new ones may be placed underneath. Doing away with the old hydraulic jacks formerly used for this purpose has removed practically the last hazard connected with this type of work.

More recently two new electric buffing wheels for the polishing of the silver, brass and metal parts of the cars were installed.

A pipe cutter, pipe threader, electric punching machine, electric welder and "shaper" are at the present time being installed in the shops. This shaper is to be used for the shaping of armor plate for corner posts, door posts, vestibules or any remodeling where it may be required.

All of the newly installed machinery is run by separate motors and from all appearances every machine in the shop will within a short time be operated by this method.

With the winter crew at work renovation has started in earnest. All mattresses used in this section by the Pullman company are rebuilt at this shop. The hair is stuffed, tufted and the mattress sewed with machinery. It is necessary to completely rebuild all mattresses at least once every six months. Pillows are also thoroughly renovated after a six month period. Carpets are put down in the car with a hair felt matting underneath. This is a non conductor and gives the aisles a soft velvety walking surface.

Pure Milk Supply Is Absolutely Necessary, Says Health Official

MILK, ONE OF IMPORTANT FOODS MUST BE PURE IF FULL BENEFITS ARE DERIVED FROM "NATURE'S DIET"

(Contributed by Dr. C. R. Blake with extracts from "Better Health")

Milk is one of our most important foods. It contains all the necessary food elements to support life. It is Nature's diet for the young. Milk is one of the cheapest foods as well as the most nourishing. We insist upon all of our foods being cleaned or cooked except milk. In spite of care in handling, milk contains soluble filth and bacteria in greater or less number. Milk furnishes an excellent medium for germs to multiply very rapidly. Even the very best milk contains bacteria. Pure milk, so-called, does not mean that it contains no germs, but that it is heavily contaminated. Milk containing 10,000 bacteria per thimbleful, we think is quite clean. Often the number is 50,000 or 100,000 per thimbleful. Such milk, literally, is alive with bacteria. There are at least four factors that affect the bacterial count of milk: (1) cleanliness in and about the stables; (2) cleanliness of those who handle milk; (3) temperature at which it is kept; (4) the length of time before being consumed. The effect of negligence and filth is obvious. A man objects strenuously to finding a hair, even from his wife's head, in his food yet he often drinks raw milk that has had cow manure, hair and flies strained out of it with a piece of cheese cloth. Care and cleanliness by those handling milk cannot be over-emphasized. The temperature at which milk is kept is extremely important. Milk should be cooled to 50 degrees F. or lower immediately after milking. It should never be left at a higher temperature. Bacteria thrive and multiply rapidly in milk if kept in the room temperature of about 70 degrees. Warm weather always brings a certain amount of illness due to improperly kept milk. Bacteria that is harmless in small numbers, often become harmful when consumed in large numbers. Small children and babies are particularly liable to intestinal troubles, diarrhoea and cholera infantum, when they are given milk too highly populated with bacteria.

There are many kinds of bacteria found in milk. Most of these are not harmful when taken in small amounts. There may be some present that produce disease. We may divide the bacteria in general, in three groups: (1) lactic acid bacilli; (2) bacilli that cause putrefaction; (3) disease-producing bacilli. The lactic acid organisms are always present in greater or less numbers. They cause the milk to turn sour. The bacteria that cause putrefaction of milk are the same that cause meat to spoil. Milk should not putrefy in the course of two or three days. It must be heavily contaminated when put in the bottle or it has been put in an unclean bottle for this to happen.

The organisms that concern us more particularly are the specific disease-producing group. These organisms, when present, are usually in small numbers. They are planted in the consumer long before they are found in the milk. Unfortunately, the milk is often not suspected as the cause of the disease until after a number of children or adults have been taken sick with the disease. An effort must then be made to isolate the particular organism that caused the disease and this may take several days or fail entirely, since the source of infection may have been removed since the disease began.

Epidemics of typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever and septic sore throat have all been traced many times to a contaminated milk supply. There is no doubt that many cases of tuberculosis have been caused by drinking raw milk from tubercular cows. The presence of a sufficient number of pathogenic organisms in milk to produce disease does not change the physical properties of the milk. The taste is not altered in the least. A more subtle deception cannot be conceived than the innocent and unsuspecting drinking of raw milk in which the germs that produce one of these dreaded diseases lie hidden.

The fact that the most rigid sanitary measures and close inspection of tuberculin tested cows and dairy equipment can only reduce to a minimum and cannot insure us against the possibilities of the spread of such diseases, led investigators to seek a further means of guaranteeing to the public a safe milk supply. A few years ago, a satisfactory scheme was evolved. It is called "pasteurization." Sanitary measures are not to be supplanted by pasteurization. It is in no sense a panacea for the milk problem. It is simply an added safeguard to the strictest sanitary conditions and methods of inspection feasible. Pasteurization in conjunction with regular inspection of cows and stables and observance of the most rigid methods for cleanliness that are possible, produces a safe and wholesome milk supply.

Pasteurized milk, as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture, is as follows: "Pasteurized milk is milk that has been subjected to a temperature of not lower than 145 degrees F. for not less than 30 minutes. (This is considerably below the boiling temperature.) Unless it is bottled hot, it is promptly cooled to 50 degrees or below. Milk subjected to a temperature of 145 degrees F. for thirty minutes is practically unchanged chemically. A higher temperature produces some chemical changes. A lower temperature is not likely to kill all the disease-producing bacteria. In the process of pasteurization, the lactic acid bacteria are greatly reduced also the putrefying organisms. We may feel reasonably certain that all disease-producing bacteria, if present, are killed. They cannot withstand the pasteurizing temperature.

Raw milk is dangerous, as regards vitamins, milk is an important and economical source. We may safely say that pasteurization does not destroy the vitamins, so children should not be given raw milk in order to get more vitamins as they are being needlessly exposed to and may become the prey of organisms that produce diphtheria, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, tuberculosis or septic sore throat.

Pasteurization has proved to be a safeguard in all cities against these diseases, which previously have swept hundreds of children away each year. The death rate of children has perhaps been reduced more by this single procedure than any other public health measure in recent years. A generous supply of safe milk is a great blessing to infants and children. While one of the most important food products known, it furnishes one of the easiest ways by which communicable diseases are spread. Infected milk may bring young lives to an untimely end or so effect their health that they will be seriously handicapped through out life. It behooves us, therefore, as we value our health and our children's health, to use only properly pasteurized milk.

SPEEDERS MEET NEMESIS HERE

Justice of the Peace John Roth had one of the busiest days for hearing the cases of speeders in the history of his court yesterday. A total of $100 was collected from violators of the motor vehicle laws. Those fined were:

P. Pozzuti, Calistoga, $15; W. E. Gerber, Jr., Piedmont, $10; C. Foster, Berkeley, $15; Morris Chapman, Rio Linda, $10. Police Judge C. A. Odell fined George Manning and Frank Kohne, both of Oakland $25, each for exceeding the speed limit on Macdonald avenue.

The motorists who were hauled before Justice Roth were arrested on San Pablo avenue by R. R. Cheek state traffic officer. H. S. Miller, Oakland and C. C. Vargas of Oakland, will appear before Justice Roth on charges of speeding on October 27.

Completion Of New Subway Near

It was announced recently by Supervisor R. R. Arnold that the approaches to the Christie Crossing, between Richmond and Martinez, will be paved with water-bound macadam by Saturday and if the Santa Fe railroad has completed placing of steel by that time the road will be open to traffic.

The subway will, when completed, cost $57,000. This expense is born equally by the county and the Santa Fe. Eight inches of rock will be laid through the subway and over approaches. Permanent paving of the road is, on the surveyor's 1926 scheme was evolved. It is called

Tourist Travel Heavy During Tourist Season

Californians are rapidly becoming acquainted with the scenic attractions of the West located outside the borders of their own state, according to the touring bureau of the California State Automobile Association, which points that this state stood second in travel to Yosemite National park during the past season.

Montana, located almost at the entrance to the famous Yellowstone, tomobiles or the number of passengers either in the number of automobiles is the only state that surpasses California visiting the park. During the season 3,204 California automobiles carrying 9,226 passengers visited Yellowstone.

The 48 states and several countries sent a total of 33,194 automobiles carrying 108,242 passengers to Yellowstone National park during the season. Less than half as many, 44,786 persons, visited the park by rail, showing the importance of the automobile in recreational travel.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Raymond R. Barbera, 21, of Oakland and Frances L. Brecko, 19, of Richmond, obtained a marriage license in Oakland yesterday.

NEW HIGHWAY TO BE BUILT

MARTINEZ, Oct. 19.—The Contra Costa-Sacramento Joint Highway commission met here today to formally approve the plans and specifications and advertise for bids for building Contra Costa county's portion of the new Sherman Island highway to connect the Antioch-Sherman Island bridge with the Victory Highway.

Contra Costa's participation in the program consists of building the highway from the bridge head station to the bridge proper and in defraying half the cost of the sub-way under the Santa Fe tracks. The plans were prepared by County Engineer Ralph R. Arnold. It is estimated that the county's portion of the work will amount to something over $143,000.

Pardon is Sought For Miss Whitney

Preparations are being made to seek a pardon from Governor Richardson for Miss Anita Whitney, club woman and social worker, who has been convicted of violating the criminal syndicalism law after a five year fight in which she took her case to the U. S. Supreme Court. Attorney Nathan Coghlan of San Francisco, who is representing Miss Whitney, conferred with his client yesterday to determine what future steps would be taken in an effort to keep Miss Whitney out of San Quentin, where she is to serve a one to fourteen year sentence.

Miss Whitney intimated that she would not accept a pardon, because she did not believe she could be pardoned "for doing right." It is apparent from their attitude that both Miss Whitney and her attorney have reached the end of their battle, and are prepared to face the inevitable.

Eternal War Starts Here

Who can put out the best paper, the boys or the girls? That is the question that is bothering the Blue-J class of the Roosevelt Junior High school just now. The boys believe there is only one answer to the question and the girls believe the same. But their answers are just the opposite from each other.

To settle the matter the girls are going to have the chance to see what they can do. The next issue of the school paper, "The Blue-J" will be the "Girls' Edition." Every article in it will be written by the girls. The color of the paper will be different than usual and there will be a couple of columns in which the girls will "speak their minds" about the boys of the school. In the following issue the boys will have their chance. Their paper will also be of a different color and the male opinion will be fully stated.

CHARGE AGAINST OFFICIAL MADE

SAN JOSE, Oct. 19.—C. P. Cooley, member of the Board of Supervisors of Santa Clara county, has lost his powers as a county official, which is the last of the attacks upon him by the board. The board accuses him of renting his own trucks to the county for road work, and that he had endeavored to profit by real estate transactions. Cooley deny all the charges against him and says that he is the victim of "political enemies."

San Joaquin County shipped more than 8208 cars of grapes this season up to October 7.

MANY PLACED BY BUILDERS WORK BUREAU

The labor conditions, particularly in the building trades, is in an unusually healthy condition for this time of the year, when activity tends to slacken, Dexter said. According to Dexter's report the 330 men were placed as follows: carpenters 42; plasterers 7; brickmasons 6; electricians 8; painters 23; hod carriers 7; lathers 3; millmen 7; cabinet makers 4; common laborers 140; skilled laborers 28; stevedores 14; steam hoist men 3; paper hangers 8; roofers 10; miscellaneous 18.

"ABANDONING" OUR SHIPS

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, in a recent issue, had the following to say concerning the American merchant marine:

"The ill-starred shipping enterprise (of the United States) was obviously aimed at Great Britain. The United States though this country would crawl out of the unspeakable war badly crippled, and the British world-wide shipping and coal trade would be an easy plum to pick. But British grit and British have not yet been defeated. *** Britain has withstood all attacks made upon her shipping position. The United States, by selling her ships as junk to Mr. Ford, has had to admit defeat. Great Britain is still the leading shipping power, and Great Britain intends to hold that position.

"This country will benefit greatly by the disappearance of this useless shipping. *** The shipbuilding industry will eventually benefit, and incidentally, the United States will benefit. *** If the year 1925 could see the breaking up of three or four million tons of useless American shipping it would have a very helpful effect upon shipping sentiment all over the world, and all maritime nations would feel the benefit."

If European maritime interests believe that the sale of useless ships by the United States government for scrapping, and current disagreements with regard to the conduct of the federal shipping business, presage the abandonment of the American merchant marine, they are due for a sad awakening.

The United States merchant marine was not built to cripple Great Britain or any other friendly nation. It was constructed hastily at great effort and expense in an effort to save the allies from the destructiveness of submarine warfare and to put American armies and American supplies in France.

The talk of an American marine, without our efforts, might easily have spelled destruction to the allied cause in the great war.

But now that America has the merchant marine it will not be abandoned. No considerable number of people, and certainly no political party wants it abandoned. In the earlier days of the republic our flag was on every sea and our ships added greatly to the prosperity of the country. We intend to keep the flag on the ocean as a safeguard in event of war and as a benefit to American shippers and consumers in time of peace.

The people of the United States fail to see where they would "eventually benefit" by abandoning the seas and turning over the carrying of our products to British and European ships. Certainly our recent experiences with the "benefits" of European control of the rubber industry, have not been very convincing.

If European newspapers read in the present signs in America any intention of our abandoning the American merchant marine they are gaining inspiration from their hearts and not from their heads. The national administration wants the merchant marine maintained and there is nothing to indicate that the opposition has any different desire.

Wonder if those Paris newspapers which are now railing at the United States are the same ones who wanted Uncle Sam to hurry over in 1917?

again in the fashion of women's clothes; and it probably will continue to do so. Thus it may be that the princess silhouette will be a reality long after real flesh-and-blood princesses have ceased to exist at all in a world at last made entirely and completely safe for democracies. Princesses may cease to be anything but a memory of social conditions long past, but the princess dress or something very much like it will doubtless continue to be worn—every now and then—so long as women continue to hang clothes upon themselves.

At first we took pains to call them "princess" gowns, keeping very strictly to the original, but now it seems to be a thoroughly anglicized expression. The distinguishing characteristics of the princess dress, according to the dictionaries, are that it should be a gown made in one piece, without drapery and fitting closely. To be made in one piece, of course, does not mean that it may not be made in gores, but that the skirt and bodice section shall be continuous. The present-day model or princess frock seems to come well within such a qualification.

Compared with the princess gown worn twenty years ago these new princess frocks do not fit very closely, but compared to the night-gown frocks women have been wearing recently, they are quite startlingly close fitting. It is a style that will undoubtedly remain somewhat exclusive and will not appeal to the woman who buys her clothes ready-made and doesn't want to be bothered with alterations; because these princess frocks require very careful adjusting—quite as careful as if they fitted wall-paper fashion as princess frocks did two decades ago. The two-piece frock or jumper variety has much still to recommend it to

MAKING YOUR OWN COLLARS AND CUFFS

NOW that ornamental collars and cuffs have come back into fashion women are again busying themselves making all sorts of interesting trifles of this sort with which to add daintiness or distinction or smartness to their old frocks or new ones. Then, too, sets of dainty collars and cuffs make charming presents—often at no very great expense. If you are thinking of making Christmas presents, don't overlook the possibility of the dainty hand-made collar and cuff set.

Very charming sets of collars and cuffs can be made of gold or silver leather. These are often bound around with narrow grosgrain ribbon. If you can buy the metallic leather in the piece then these are not difficult to make. And any little scraps of the metallic leather may be used to make little ornaments on frocks and hats.

While organdie with very fine tucks and narrow, fine lace edge makes charming sets that are sure to appeal to the fastidious woman. Sometimes there is a little straight front vest section attached to the collar, so that it can be set in a bodice cut out at the front.

Fine French flannel is the material used for some of the smart sets for tailored suits or frocks. The edges are finished with buttonholing in black or brown or dark blue. Gold and silver lace makes an attractive edging for collars and cuff sets. Sometimes the collars and cuffs are made of the same material as the frock, merely edged with the metal lace. To wear with a bright colored frock of black georgette edged with silver lace.

The deep, narrow V-neckline which is so much in fashion at the present time, calls for collars made especially to fit it. Very attractive is a collar made of fine net, nixon or georgette slightly ruffled, about eight inches wide at the back and graded to nothing at the front. This ruffle is slightly gathered and is then fitted into the long narrow V-neckline, giving a collar that turns back and hangs down in graceful folds. The edge of the georgette or nixon may be simply piped.

the woman who wants to buy her clothes easily and speedily.

The sketch shows a princess frock developed in black velvet, for evening. It is only slightly molded to the figure, but gives an effect of great slenderness. Heavy jewel and metal embroidery forms the yoke and decorates the skirt.

Where It Started

CALCIUM CARBIDE
Calcium carbide, the foundation of acetylene gas, was invented or more properly discovered, in 1858, by an American named Willson. His process for manufacturing it in large quantities was responsible for the boom in the automobile industry, as carbide lights made night travel possible.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By DOROTHY A. F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bledsoe, politician, has confessed to John Mannering, district attorney, that the finding of Mrs. Mannering in a notorious inn when it was raided was the result of a plot to accomplish his defeat for reelection. The two men are speeding to a suburban town where Mrs. Mannering and Diane Bledsoe are, when they see a forest fire ahead and fear for the safety of the wife and the daughter.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued

Bledsoe got to his feet, bending forward, and a great fear was in his eyes.

"There is only one forest in that direction. It surrounds my lodge. Diane is there."

"And Meadowville?" said John softly, his face ghastly white.

"Yes, and Meadowville," cried Bledsoe, and shouted at his chauffeur: "Drive, drive, man, drive as you never drove in your life before!"

So long and so heavily did Eileen sleep that when she awoke her faculties were befogged for a time. This strange, shabby little room . . . was she still dreaming? Ah . . . she remembered now. . . . Bob . . . John . . . surely it was all a dream? She must really wake up. Such horrible things were not possible. But those hoarse, excited shouts . . . that sound like the tramp of running feet on a wooden sidewalk? Was that a woman's scream? . . . What could have happened? And this strange red glare which lighted the room so fitfully, was it . . . day . . . sunlight?

Either way she had no reason to be ashamed of her son, and joy leaped up in Eileen's heart, but only to die before a great bitterness as she turned upon the sobbing girl. Her cowardice, her weakness, had wrought all the evil of the last few days. Had Diane but spoken, but told the truth! Ah, the pity of it, the crime of it! In sudden hatred Eileen clenched her fists as if to strike the girl.

A strange thing happened. Groping blindly in Eileen's heart, as Diane thrust forth her hand it touched Eileen's arm, touched those muscles tense with enmity towards her. Before such helplessness the sympathy of that mother heart was quick to intervene. Her own wrongs forgotten, Eileen's face softened. With all her faults, Diane was but a child. Now her arm was about the weeping girl.

"Come," she said gently, and as falling sparks and that ominous roar recalled her to their peril, "we must go."

"No," protested Diane hysterically. "They will put me in jail."

"Listen, dear—we can't stay here. All the people have gone—look!" The nervous, staccato of Eileen's voice grew to a cry of fear.

And well it might, for that oncoming wall of flame, licking already at the edge of the town, raining a fiery shower of sparks about them and scorching them with its hot breath, was not all.

As it aroused to greater rancor by the scared mortals, feeling its approach as might a hill of disturbed ants, the flame terror had crept swiftly around the heights which overlooked the town. Now bursting forth from below, a new advance sent a blazing host of skirmishers leaping forward to close the line of escape.

Even as Eileen watched, the swift moving flames formed a veritable arch of fire above the last departing fugitives. She and Diane were alone in a town beleaguered by fire.

Still she did not despair.

"Come!" she cried, and then uncertainly: "But where can we go?"

"The river!" cried Diane, startled from her apathy and pointing to the left.

They rushed away in the direction she had indicated. At the edge of the town the encompassing flames were upon them.

"I can't—I can't!" screamed Diane as a blast of withering heat beat down upon them.

"You must!" shouted Eileen. And seizing the girl's arm she literally dragged her forward to plunge blindly into a veritable inferno of smoke and heat and of singing flame.

Stumbling, coughing, choking, gasping for the very breath of life, they struggled on for what seemed an eternity.

Berry Thieves Given Warning

With the hills of Contra Costa county already dotted with the red berry and with the appearance of the seasonal bearing, authorities are again confronted with the difficult task of curing the red berry thieves. Warning was issued yesterday that the state law prohibiting picking of red berries without the consent of owners of property will be rigidly enforced. If it becomes necessary, as it has been in the past, patrols will be placed on highways.

Evidence of bountiful growth is given this year by the early bearing of the red berry trees, particularly along the waterfronts.

QUICK SALE IS PREDICTED FOR UTILITY BONDS

Interest by the public and bond houses in the bonds of the East Bay Municipal Utility District indicates a quick sale at a good premium for the district in the case of the $5,000,000 issue which is soon to be placed on the market, according to J. H. Kimball, secretary.

"Keen interest is being shown, both by bond houses and the public, in the forthcoming $5,000,000 issue of five per cent bonds," said Kimball. "Most of the local bond houses on both sides of the bay, either individually or in syndicates, are planning to submit bids for these bonds at the time of the opening bids, 8 p. m., Friday, October 23, at the offices of the district, Ray building, Oakland. In addition to the interest shown by local houses there is an active call for information on the part of large Eastern firms who are asking for detailed data. Representatives of one strong Eastern syndicate are at present enroute to Oakland to submit their bid.

"The steadily increasing demand for municipals, as indicated by a review of municipal financing for the past decade, as well as the present upward trend of prices, point to a quick absorption market for this offering at a figure which should prove very gratifying to the district. One bond man goes so far as to say that we will get an unheard of premium."

"It is a well known fact that municipals take precedence over all other bonds and among municipals, water bonds outrank all others except outstanding school bonds as the funds from such issues are used in the construction of necessary public works. Inasmuch as this will be the first issue of the district, and inasmuch as the validity of the district and of the bonds has been established by the Supreme Court decision of August 24, and inasmuch as the bonds are tax exempt, the guilt-edge character of these securities is very apparent. A number of people have expressed a wish to purchase the first bond and we regret that all of this issue cannot bear number one. The popular pride of East Bay residents in their water project is shown by the many inquiries as to whether they could not buy these bonds direct from the district. Indications are that people who have never bought anything but Government bonds before will now enroll as buyers of municipals."

Further progress of a strong character was made at Sacramento during the last hearing before Edward Hyatt of the State Division of Water Rights in regard to a permit for Mokelumne water, it was reported by Dr. George C. Pardee, president of the district. Pardee said that the district has made an excellent showing at all the previous hearings and that at the last one the position of the East Bay cities was strengthened by new testimony that was offered.

"The most strenuous efforts by people with special interest behind them have been made to break down the case of the Utility District in its demand for a permit to take 200,000,000 gallons of water daily from the Mokelumne River," said Dr. Pardee. "It appears from all that has been brought out from these hearings that we are right in our assumption that we can take this quantity of water from the river and still leave all that will be needed for other purposes. It has never been the desire of the district to work against the interests of the farmers in the Valley or the Delta. On the other hand, we have tried to take the broadest view of the matter and work out a project which would be for the best interests for all concerned. We believe we have established our case. Humanly speaking, there seems little doubt but that we will obtain the permit which we need to complete the project."

El Cerrito Trustees Hold Active Business Session

SIGNS TO BE POSTED

A communication was received from the California State Automobile Association by the board of trustees of El Cerrito at their meeting Monday night, stating that the road signs for the city limits were being made and would be installed in about two or three weeks.

The association also said that they did not have any signs with "Church Go Slow" so the board instructed city marshal Forrest Wright to have two signs painted.

GASOLINE LAW ASKED

In a letter from the Board of Fire Underwriters, the city officials were asked to adopt an ordinance that gasoline in larger quantities than 5 gallons be stored underground. The matter was referred to city attorney T. M. Carlson for one week. As one of the large oil refining companies has been selling gasoline in fifty gallon drums, the board of trustees are afraid the insurance companies will raise the fire rates so will probably take action to prevent this.

COMPLAINT ON BLASTING

The residents of El Cerrito made complaints to the board that the Hutchinson Quarry Co. had been blasting as late as one and two o'clock in the morning and wanted the nuisance stopped. Marshal Forrest was instructed to interview the officials of the quarry company and see that all blasting be done between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. in the future.

SIGNS TO PROTECT CHILDREN

On a request of El Cerrito Improvement Association to have erect two arm stop signals on San Pablo avenue at Eureka street to direct traffic during the hours the school children were crossing the highway, the trustees ordered Marshal Wright to have signals erected if permission could be obtained from the State Highway Commission. The signals will be operated by the pupils of Fairmont school.

R. R. TO IMPROVE CROSSING

According to engineer Clafee the Santa Fe will improve the railroad crossings on all streets that have been paved and will probably start within the next few days.

CITY TREASURER REPORTS

City Treasurer Cora J. M. Simonson reported a balance on hand October 1, of $3,171.31. The report was accepted and placed on file.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT SIGN

The complaint of Joe Arbini that a sign had been erected next to his home on San Pablo avenue near Hill street, obstructing his view was referred to Marshal Wright, with instruction to notify the sign company that if the sign was not moved that the board would raise the license making it prohibitive to erect signs in El Cerrito.

ANNEXATION COMMITTEE TO MEET

An invitation to attend the meeting of the Annexation committee of the El Cerrito Improvement Association to be held at the home of Mrs. George Adams on Eureka and Elms street tonight, was extended to the trustees by chairman, Mrs. M. M. Wright. The meeting is being held to discuss financing the campaign for the annexation of the Richmond Annex.

ALLOWANCE TO FIRE DEPT.

On the recommendation of Trustee Chas. Zimmerman, the board allowed the fire department twenty dollars a month for incidental expenses.

SEWER RIGHT-OF-WAY

The board instructed Chairman F. McDermott to enter into agreement providing for a right-of-way under the Santa Fe tracks for sewers with Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe R. R. company.

INTERSECTION TO BE REPAIRED

City Engineer Ross L. Clafee, reported that the State Highway Commission would probably improve the intersections of Central, Lincoln, Eureka and Stockton on San Pablo, but that the other intersection would not be improved at this time. A definite report will be made to the board next Monday night by the city engineer.

Improvement Club Elects Officers

At the regular meeting of the Richmond Annex Improvement club Monday evening in Huber hall, El Cerrito officers of the organization were elected as follows: M. C. Doyle, president; J. B. Willis, vice-president; A. P. Schwartz, secretary-treasurer; E. E. Sampson, William Hartmann, H. E. Cecil, trustee.

The question of annexation of the Annex to Richmond was discussed by Sheriff R. R. Veale, speaker of the evening. A fancy dance was given by Miss C. Hall, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eugene Wood. Vocal selections were rendered by J. Howard with Miss A. Vicory at the piano. A banquet rounded out the evening.

Beer Made From Grain Grown Here

Contra Costa is shipping thousands of pounds of barley to England to be made into beer and ale, according to reports of A. M. Burton, farm advisor. It is estimated that there are approximately 650,000 bushels of the grain grown in this county this year. A large amount of this has been bought by English brewers.

(Right) Recent Parisian sensation and very boyish model which at first glance appears to be a two piece costume, but is a very attractive little one piece silken frock made of Georgette and Sa-on. ## Aged Gardner Sent To County Hospital

After staunchly refusing for many months to leave his dilapidated abode on the Lucas homestead on the Richmond inner harbor, J. Egan was prevailed upon yesterday by Dr. C. R. Blake, to spend his remaining days at the county hospital, where he will receive medical care. Egan was the gardener for the Lucas family for years and Lucas had called upon the city to do something for the man who was cancer stricken and aged.

The city could do nothing unless the man consented or someone issued a warrant declaring him a public nuisance, which would not be done. His condition finally became helpless and Dr. Blake gained his consent to go to Martinez.

JUNIOR ELEVEN CANCELS GAMES AND BREAKS UP

Games have been canceled, equipment put away, the players consoling and the football season generally wound up at Roosevelt Junior High school.

Coach George Miner tried all season with all his might to combat hard luck but now realizes his efforts are useless. The team got off to a flying start and everything pointed to one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school. Then old lady Fate started leading trumps.

The reasons for the disbanding of the football squad are two—injuries and sickness. The sickness in turn is divided by two—mumps and smallpox. None of the injuries were serious their extent being a few scratches, bruises and a few other exterior disabilities.

First came the mumps. The captain and the quarterback are both laid up with this affliction. Then came the smallpox. Most of the members of the team were never vaccinated and for several days they will have no desire whatever to engage in battle.

Miner's team has a full schedule until November 14 but it will be that date before the team can be re-organized and ready to go into action again. Games were to have been played with Benicia Polytechnic 130 pounders, and two games with Martinez 130's.

Every member of the football squad accepted the verdict with good will and they are now preparing to go into the basketball season. The men fail to get their letters for football but they are all determined this will not be the case when it comes to basketball.

Practices will start in about three weeks. The delay is occasioned by some inter-advisory athletics that have to be played off in the meantime.

WHAT ABOUT STADIUMS

Athletic managers far and wide are lying awake nights figuring out how to accommodate the fans who want to see football games. Seventy thousands saw California play St. Mary's last Saturday, which is quite a number when it is considered that only 12,000 saw the game five years ago. There are 200,000 applications for seats for the Bear-Cardinal clash but the stadium will accommodate at the most only 80,000.

HOOKE'S 52 POUNDER

The largest bass to be hooked on the coast this year was brought in by Fred Farnum, Oakland sportsman at Napa, after a struggle of more than an hour and a half. The fish weighed 52 pounds, was 50 inches long and 30 inches in circumference. It was approximately 12 years old, judging by the rings on the scales. Farnum took the fish with an 8 ounce rod and nine thread line.

TO MAKE TENNIS STANDARD

A movement is now on foot to make tennis courts throughout the tennis playing world standard. The balls are standard, the rules are standard, and the racket is practically standard. Experts think now that the courts should be standard. A complete study of the matter shows that the asphalt floors make excellent playing conditions and are adapted to climatic conditions throughout the world.

NO ENTHUSIASM

PALO ALTO, Oct. 20.—A bitter tongue lashing administered last night showed the Cardinal eleven that they were not so good as they figured when they beat the University of Southern California. Pop Warner took no trouble to conceal any of the weakness of the team in the U. S. C. game. The talking to was given in preparation to a week's hard practice before taking on the Oregon Aggies Saturday.

ALL JAZZED UP

The Washington Huskies will be all pepped up when they invade the den of the Golden Bear next month. One of the Alumni of the school presented the team with a portable phonograph and 50 records of the latest jazz to provide entertainment on the train while the journey south is being made.

GOES TO MAJORS

According to word received in Oakland yesterday, Walter Christensen, graduate of the winter leagues and one of the best outfielders in the minors, will go to the Cincinnati Reds of the National league.

4 OF 6-FOOT-PLUS GIANTS ON WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FRESHMAN ELEVEN, WHICH HAS BIGGEST '28 TEAM

The Washington University freshman football squad of St. Louis is said to be composed of the biggest first year men in the country. Four of the biggest men, three of them brothers, are shown above. Left to right, they are, Walter Brown, 6 feet, 2 inches, Clarence Brown, 6 feet 4; Frank Brown 6 feet 7; Les Raphael 6 feet 1. With them is Coach Davis, who is only 5 feet 1.

Stanford-O. A. C. Are to Tangle On Gridiron Saturday

By DON LIEBENDORFER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 20.—Stanford Freshmen vs. U. S. C. Freshmen, 1 p. m.

Stanford Varsity vs. Oregon Agricultural College Varsity, 3 p. m.

This is the gridiron program which will be presented in the Stanford Stadium next Saturday afternoon. And what a dish that will be for the football fans. The Trojan yearlings, smarting under the licking handed their varsity by the Cardinals last Saturday will be out for blood. And the southerners always have a strong freshman team. O. A. C. comes south, reputed to be the heaviest aggregation in the conference and one of the strongest.

After its surprising victory over the University of Southern California, the Stanford varsity will be the center of attraction in the football world for the next few weeks. That unexpected triumph may prove to be just what Warner's in-experienced men need to imbue them with confidence. From now until November 14, the Cards will be called upon to repel the attacks of three northern members of the Pacific Coast conference.

The Oregon Aggies will be the first of the northern invaders. October 31, the Lemon Yellow eleven from the University of Oregon comes south and on November 7, Stanford goes north to fight off the University of Washington.

With the possible exception of the Washington game, the Cards are in for their toughest struggle of the season before the Big Game, against the Aggies Saturday. The Ags have run up tremendous scores in their early contests are coming south, confident that they can take the measure of "Pop" Warner's eleven. Inasmuch as Stanford must win every conference game remaining on her schedule in order to take the Pacific Coast title, Warner can take no chances with O. A. C.

(The old boy will have his squad in tip top shape and Saturday's contest should be one of the best of the year.)

next season. He was sold by St. Paul two days ago.

THE DUCK HANGS HIGH

Due to the consistent lack of rain the ducks continue to fly high to the great consternation of the nippers. They are plentiful, but continue to remain out of reach. They will not come down until the rainy weather and thousands of them are going north instead of south. The rice fields seem to be the goal of the birds as there is where most of the shooting is being done.

Gridders Are Hit By Needle Of Vaccination

The ultimatum that all students of Richmond Union high school must be vaccinated against smallpox has dealt a hard blow to Coach Ivan Hill. With the "big" game of the year looming for Saturday, Hill is running around in a manner resembling that of a chicken recently decapitated.

The football machine of the school has had a monkey wrench thrown in the main cogs for sure, but Hill intends to go ahead with the game.

Joined with this growth, has been a rapid increase in manufactured products, agriculture and business in general, occasioned by impressive expansion in population.

Today this Company serves three-quarters of a million customers and the service is rendered at a cost within the reach of all.

er at a cost within the reach of all.

The popularity of the Company is maintained by 11,400 loyal and carefully trained employees, giving quick, courteous service.
